Fig. 21. The canonero was a prefabricated, flat decked, shallow draught (2 meters) steamer that was rigged as a fore and aft schooner. First introduced in 1860, the canonero carried a 24 pound bowgun with swivel guns mounted on the rails. It proved more than a match for Balangingi garay in coastal waters and signalled the end of Samal maritime raiding. (Courtesy of Museo Naval, Rafael Mouleon, Construccion Navales)

A photograph of a traditional wooden sailing vessel, known as a Balok, on the water. The vessel has a large, triangular blue sail and a white hull. Several people are visible on the deck. The sky is filled with large, white clouds. The word "BALOK" is written in red capital letters in the upper right portion of the image.
